

RIGORS OF STUDY ABROAD

ALL participants must complete this form to demonstrate they are cleared, health-wise, to participate in UC San Diego Global Seminars. The health Clearance form must be signed and uploaded into your online application, before the participant is allowed to participate in a UC San Diego Global Seminar program. Copies of the medical history and health clearance forms are to be retained by both the healthcare professional and the participant as a confidential medical record.

TO THE PHYSICIAN/HEALTHCARE PROFESSIONAL:

The participant named on this form is applying to participate in a program of study abroad. Students may spend from 5 to 10 weeks in residence abroad. Living and studying in a foreign environment may create unexpected physical and emotional stress, which may exacerbate otherwise mild disorders. It is important that all participants be able to adjust to potentially dramatic changes in climate, diet, living conditions and studying conditions that may be seriously disruptive to accustomed patterns of behavior. One should never assume that going abroad to study would provide an antidote to health problems experienced at home. Failure to disclose or inform UC San Diego Global Seminars and its partners of medication or medical treatment potentially increases the risk the participant faces while studying abroad.

If the participant is attending one of the following programs, please review the additional program-specific information on page 5 of this form. These programs have unique considerations to be included when completing this health assessment:

- Guanacaste, Costa Rica

ALL PARTICIPANTS MUST BE GRANTED A HEALTH CLEARANCE TO STUDY ABROAD WITH UC SAN DIEGO GLOBAL SEMINARS

This clearance must include the following steps:

1. The participant must present you a fully completed medical history form. Please review this form with the participant for accuracy and completeness. You do not need to perform a physical examination unless requested by the participant, but you must discuss the participant's health history thoroughly, paying particular attention to immunizations that may be needed, any allergies the participant may have, and all currently active health issues.
2. Pay special attention to any emotional/psychological problems and the medications the participant is taking. UC San Diego and its partners are especially concerned for the wellbeing of participants who have been diagnosed as anorexic or bulimic, bi-polar disorders or depression that requires medication; these conditions may increase the risk to life-threatening levels in a foreign environment. Participants may be cleared with these conditions provided they are in compliance with and stabilized on their medication.
3. Please impress on the participant the need to ascertain the availability of medications in the country to which they are traveling and/or assure that they have a supply of any necessary medication sufficient to last for the entire period they will be abroad. The need for any counseling or laboratory testing while abroad should also be disclosed so that UC San Diego Global Seminars may determine the availability of adequate facilities at the program site.
4. Please describe any physical or learning disabilities the participant may have. Please note that students requesting ADA accommodation must register with UC San Diego Office for Students with Disabilities and must contact their UC San Diego Global Seminars Coordinator.

Participants may be cleared for participation so long as, in the opinion of the examining healthcare professional, any condition they may have is under control and they have been stabilized on their medication for a reasonable period of time. If a specialist for a serious ongoing medical or psychiatric condition is currently seeing the participant, the specialist should also approve and sign this clearance form.

Global Seminar Name

I have read the attached information about the rigors of study abroad and reviewed the student's Health Screening form with the student. Based upon the information provided to me by the student on the Health Screening form, and pursuant to a review of the student's personal health history, I find:

_____ There are NO medical contraindications to participation and the student is cleared to study abroad.

_____ While the student is conditionally cleared to study abroad, the student should arrange the following in advance of Global Seminar participation:

_____ Services that would facilitate the student's education (e.g., note taking, wheel chair access). Student should contact the Disability Resource Center: _____

_____ Take a sufficient amount of medication to last for the duration of the program or ensure that the medication is locally available. Indicate if significant allergy to any medication: _____

_____ There ARE medical contraindications to participation and in my judgment the student is NOT cleared to study abroad.

Mental Health Assessment:

_____ At present, there are NO apparent psychological contraindications to participation in the program. However, mental health status can fluctuate over time.

_____ The undersigned recommends the availability of the following services during the time abroad:

_____ Psychological treatment, if needed

_____ Psychiatric treatment, if needed

_____ If the student continues on psychiatric medication at the time of their departure, arrangements should be made so that this treatment can continue during his/her time abroad.

_____ It is my professional opinion that the student's mental health status contraindicates participation, and in my judgment the student is NOT cleared to study abroad.

Guanacaste, Costa Rica

The program will take place in a tropical environment during its hot and rainy season: temperatures of 81-98°F with annual rainfall of 59-79 inches. The following activities are mandatory components of the program:

- Walking/hiking up to 3-5 miles daily for ~10 consecutive days in the forest with very high humidity, at times surpassing 80% humidity.
- Walking 3-5 miles nightly on beach sand for ~10 consecutive nights (collecting sea turtle data with a team of experts).

Participants of low-average fitness can complete the activities, however the environment may create unexpected physical and emotional stress that can exacerbate health conditions. There will be changes in diet, climate, living, and study environments which need to be assessed with prior, existing, or other medical and health conditions that may be triggered:

- Participants may be exposed to a variety of new microbes and organisms in the tropics. Students with specific conditions such as autoimmune disease should be analyzed carefully with other health conditions.
- Participants with conditions that cause a drop in heart rate or blood pressure by the activities/environment should be analyzed carefully with other health conditions and need to plan accordingly.
- Because of the physical work in high temperatures during the program. Some level of dehydration is possible if not properly and continuously drinking water. Typically not a major issue unless it precipitates more complicated health issues.
- Allergic reactions can occur with the new environment, plants, animals, and food. If the participant could be mildly or severely affected by an allergic reaction, or if they currently require antihistamine medicine (such as an EpiPen), please advise the participant now on procedures and medication to bring as a safety measure.
